Excerpt from Prayers for All Occasions: Companion to Prayers New and Old

The reasons for this are various, but there is one in particular which is undoubtedly common. Here is a personal note from one who had found out where his own trouble lay.

I knew that my prayer life was not what it should be. My prayers were loose, haphazard, unarranged. More often than not, I felt the need of forgiveness for the casualness and insincerity of my praying. And then one day I found where the trouble lay. It was just that I was not going the right way about it. My prayers were not properly ordered: I had not given any thought to them before I got on my knees. I was not making of my prayers a solemn and deliberate act of worship.

There are, of course, times in everyone's life when prayer cannot wait to be organized: moments when prayer is the anguished utterance of a breaking heart, or the formless cry of the soul for grace and courage to live through the next twenty-four hours. No plan of prayer will serve then. But normally people do need a plan, a method of devotion; they need to have a clear idea both of what they are going to pray for and of what order their prayers will follow: what shall come first, and so forth. They also need prayers ready to hand from which they can make a sort of cycle of prayer for a week or a month, so they will not be repeating the same prayers day after day until they have become monotonous, and perhaps unreal.

It is hoped that this book of Prayer: For All Occasions will help to meet this personal need, and also provide material for use in prayer groups and occasional evening services in Church.
